

All of us at Maple Systems would like to keep you informed on how our team is adapting to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Our number one priority is the health and safety of our employees and customers. As an essential business we are operational and committed to servicing you.

Effective immediately we are proactively taking the following steps to keep our colleagues, customers, and vendors safe by minimizing risk and exposure while continuing to operations:

- In-person meetings are replaced with virtual meetings
- Visits to Maple Systems offices by outside personnel have been suspended
- Restrictions on business travel are implemented
- Only essential personnel are on site, most employees work remotely
- Social distancing and heightened hygiene practices are being observed
- We monitor the delivery of orders and impact to our suppliers
- In some cases, delivery may be subject to commercial carrier delay
- Standard lead times are in effect, but this will be reviewed daily
